

FLORIDA HOME PARTNERSHIP

Florida Home Partnership keeps housing affordable using the USDA Self-Help model where owners contribute "sweat equity" labor to their and neighbors' homes to help build a strong community. The Bayou Pass neighborhood, developed by FHP in rural Hillsborough County, is the fastest growing community in the county.

With 303 homes, an important part of the development is a community center financed in part by Florida Community Loan Fund. The center brings the area households together in the true spirit of community – offering a spot to gather, hold meetings and events, use the exercise room, pool, and playground – and also provides

ABOUNDING IN FAITH

For low-wage working families, childcare expenses can be daunting, and quality care is hard to find for those working late nights or irregular hours. Abounding in Faith operates 2 childcare facilities in rural Polk County to meet these needs.

Founded by a former nurse, AIF cares for the entire family – offering transportation to appointments, assistance with applications for public assistance, attendance at sports events, and other services. AIF prepares children from low-income households to enter kindergarten ready to succeed. 97% of families served receive subsidies through the Dept. of Education and Polk County Early Learning Coalition.
